JAP PROBLEM IS DELICATE PHASE OF THE CONFERENCE

Tenseness Of The Silence Was Agony When Admiral Kato Arose To Express His Views On Proposals Of The United States.

The Associated Negro Press
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 23.—History has been made. There has been much of it lately. To read of it is a privilege; to see it is a duty. A grand reality is quietly not so much to be forgotten.

Washington is the capital of the world. Here the world has been everywhere in its history. It is a great and noble city, full of life and energy, and it is the headquarters of the world's thought and action. It is the center of the world's life, and it is the center of the world's thought and action.

There are two sides to the picture. The one side is the one that is seen. The other side is the one that is not seen. The one side is the one that is seen. The other side is the one that is not seen.

SHOP VERNON IS NOW TOURING SOUTH AFRICA

Tells Presidents Of Progress Made By Brothers In America. Urges Them To Cultivate Friendly Relations With European Nations.

Special To The Argus.
JOHANNESBURG, Transvaal, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Shop V. Vernon, A. M. (I. I. I.), D. D., head of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, is telling John D. Rockefeller and his associates that the American people have a great stake in the welfare of the South African people.

Robert Rogers has recently come to South Africa and the African Methodist Episcopal Church, over which he presides, is the largest strictly American church operating in the country. He has had other an unique history in that he has occupied the highest office which any black American has held under the United States Government.

Under President Roosevelt, and again under President Coolidge, he held the post of Registrar of the Treasury, with great credit to himself and his race. He has been very active in the native church of which he is the head. It is reported to be a thing of great importance to the people of the South African people.

In the course of his remarks the speaker said the American people have never ceased to think of Africa. Its untold riches and the African people, who have been so long in the hands of a few white men, have been a source of opportunity for the people of the world. He said that the American people have a great stake in the welfare of the South African people.

Shouldering the Burden.
In every race in the history of the world, a certain burden has been shouldered. The American people have shouldered the burden of the world's peace.

Today he paid taxes on oil without being allowed to have a voice in the new laws, regulations and matters which are operated and controlled by the government. He said that the American people have a great stake in the welfare of the South African people.
